the location of the first data wherein the index previously indicated a data address defining a location of the first data that is required to process the workload. None of the prior art of record either newly cited or previously cited details this updating operation. All of the prior art of record, in particular, Cox (U.S. Patent Publication 2002/0032698), Okanoya (U.S. Patent 6,128,657), Freeman (U.S. Patent 6,922,724), and Wolff (U.S. Patent 6,067,545) detail the distribution of work, e.g. workload, amongst a plurality of processing devices based on certain incentives, i.e. the processing load, or processing or memory capabilities or capacities. None of the cited references detail either the use of an index having one or more data addresses defining a location of data required for the work or updating this index to indicate the storage associated with the device that processes and stores the required data. Therefore, the claims are allowable over the cited prior art of record.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
